INFORMATIONAL SHEET FOR ECP CLAIM FORM

Overview of Penal Code section 4900

Penal Code section 4900 claims are governed by the statutory provisions in Penal Code sections 4900 through 4906 and the regulatory provisions in Title 2 of the California Code of Regulations, sections 640 through 646 (i.e., Article 5), as well as sections 615.1 through 619.7 (i.e., Article 2.5). Relief under section 4900 is limited to claimants who are innocent of – meaning they did not commit – the felony offense, or offenses, they were convicted of and imprisoned for. (Pen. Code, § 4900, subd. (a).) Compensation will be awarded only if the claim is approved by the Board and sufficient funds are available. Compensation is limited to a set rate of $140 per day of the claimant’s erroneous imprisonment. (Pen. Code, § 4904.)

Time Limitations

To obtain relief under Penal Code section 4900, the claimant must submit a claim within 10 years after a judgment of acquittal, dismissal of the charges, a pardon being granted, or the claimant’s release from custody, whichever is later. However, the claim cannot be filed until 60 days after a conviction is reversed, habeas petition is granted, or, if a case is pending upon an initial refile, or until a complaint or information has been dismissed a single time. (Pen. Code, § 4901, subds. (a) & (c).)

Eligibility for Compensation

To be eligible for consideration, the claimant must have been convicted of a felony under California law, for which a prison sentence was imposed, and the claimant must no longer be imprisoned or on parole for that offense. Compensation is barred for claimants who pled guilty to an offense to protect another from prosecution. (Pen. Code, § 4903, subd. (e).)

CalVCB’s Role

CalVCB serves as a neutral adjudicator, similar to a judge or court. CalVCB does not investigate claims or provide legal advice. It is the claimant’s responsibility to provide CalVCB with all relevant evidence and argument necessary to approve the claim. The Attorney General may appear as an opposing party and provide relevant evidence and argument to oppose the claim. The parties are expected to familiarize themselves with the applicable law and regulations. The claimant may retain, at their own expense, an attorney or representative of their choosing.

Procedure for Approving a Claim

The process begins with the submission of a completed claim form to CalVCB. A Hearing Officer reviews the claim form to determine whether it complies with Penal Code sections 4900 and 4901, which often takes between 30 and 60 days. Thereafter, the claimant will be notified if any additional information or argument is needed. The claim may be rejected by the Hearing Officer if any identified deficiencies are not timely cured. Otherwise, the claim is filed, and both the claimant and Attorney General will be notified of the next steps, which may include an in-person hearing before the Hearing Officer. Once all evidence and arguments are received, the record closes, and the Hearing Officer will draft a proposed decision to approve or deny the claim. CalVCB's three-member Board makes the final decision whether to approve or deny the claim in a public meeting, after notice to the parties with an opportunity to appear.

Burden of Proof

Generally, the claimant must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that 1) they did not commit the crime they were convicted of and 2) that they were injured by the erroneous conviction. The claimant is entitled to a hearing to prove both innocence and injury, at which the Attorney General may appear. (Pen. Code, § 4903, subd. (a).) There are three limited exceptions that apply only when a court has made certain findings:

- 1. Innocence Finding: A court found the claimant factually innocent of the erroneous conviction pursuant to Penal Code section 851.865 or 1485.55 based on proof by a preponderance of evidence that the claimant did not commit the crime. If this exception applies, then CalVCB must approve the claim, without a hearing on the issue of innocence, for demonstrated injury within 90 days after the claim is filed. Nevertheless, CalVCB may request additional information from the parties as needed to calculate injury. (Pen. Code, §§ 851.865, 1485.55, subds. (a)-(c) & (g), 4902, subd. (a).)
- 2. PC 4900(b): A court vacated the conviction by granting a writ of habeas corpus or motion pursuant to Penal Code section 1473.6 or 1473.7, subdivision (a)(2), and the charges were dismissed on remand or resulted in acquittal. If this exception applies, then CalVCB must approve the claim for demonstrated injury, unless the Attorney General timely objects with clear and convincing evidence of the claimant's guilt. If the Attorney General declines to object, then CalVCB must approve the claim within 90 days thereafter for demonstrated injury. (Pen. Code, §§ 4900, subd. (b), 4902, subd. (d), 4903, subd. (b), 4904.)
 - Please note this exception only applies to vacated convictions under the specified circumstances. It does not apply, for example, to reversals on direct appeal or dismissals pursuant to Penal Code section 1172.6.
- 3. PC 1485.55(d): A court granted the claimant's motion for approval of a claim as an erroneously convicted offender pursuant to Penal Code section 1485.55, subdivision (d). If the motion is granted, then CalVCB must, upon application, approve the claim for demonstrated injury within 90 days. (Pen. Code, §§ 1485.55, subd. (d); 4904.)

To submit a claim, complete the Erroneously Convicted Person Claim Form in its entirety, attach all supporting documentation, and return it to CalVCB either by regular mail addressed to P.O. Box 350, Sacramento, CA 95812-0350, or by email addressed to HearingOfficer@victims.ca.gov. A CalVCB representative will contact you once your submission has been received and considered.
